This village is a documented known location for picking up undocumented non-citizens (UNC). The BPA encountered the same Jeep approximately 30 minutes later now traveling eastbound. The BPA made a U-turn to get in behind it and the driver, later identified as Isaiah Osorio, slowed down and drove towards the shoulder as if attempting to stop. The passenger doors slightly opened and one suspected UNC wearing camouflage attempted to exit the vehicle. Osorio then accelerated forward approximately fifty yards and abruptly stopped forcing the BPA to swerve off the shoulder to avoid a collision. The rear doors opened and six suspected UNC's dressed in camouflage clothing exited the Jeep and ran north of SR 86. Osorio accelerated again and the BPA noticed one subject, identified as Chavelo Cifuentes-Juan, wearing camouflage was near the rear part of the Jeep on the ground. Osorio continued to drive off and drove over Cifuentes-Juan's legs. The BPA immediately notified the SR 86 checkpoint via Service radio the vehicle type and direction of travel and requested Emergency Medical Services to respond. Cifuentes-Juan was transported to the hospital where he was treated for his injuries which included abrasions and head trauma.

BASIS OF COMPLAINANT'S CHARGE AGAINST THE ACCUSED CONTINUED:

Osorio approached the Immigration Checkpoint on SR 86 in the Jeep. He was referred to secondary and then accelerated away from the checkpoint at a high rate of speed. A BPA traveling westbound on SR 86 saw the Jeep driving eastbound at a high rate of speed. The BPA turned around to follow but could not catch up to the Jeep even while driving in excess of the posted speed limit. The BPA stopped pursuing for community safety. A few minutes later, the BPA saw the Jeep slow rolling on the shoulder of the highway. The BPA conducted a vehicle stop and arrested Osorio without further incident.

Records checks revealed that Chavelo Cifuentes-Juan did not have the proper immigration documentation to enter or remain in the U.S. legally. Material witness Chavelo Cifuentes-Juan said his parents arranged for him to be smuggled into the United States for money. Cifuentes said he illegally crossed the International Boundary Fence as part of a group and were guided via cellphone to the pickup location. Cifuentes said they were told a black sport utility vehicle (SUV) would be picking them up. Cifuentes said the SUV arrived and the driver honked several times to signal the group. Cifuentes said once they were inside, they traveled for approximately thirty minutes before the driver began yelling at them to get out. Cifuentes said he was the last person to get out but before he was able to completely exit the vehicle, he felt the driver use his hand to push him out of the vehicle while accelerating. He fell to the ground and was run over by the rear tire as the SUV took off.

In a post-Miranda statement, Osorio admitted to smuggling illegal aliens for monetary gain. Osorio said his friend put him in contact via Facebook with people who would pay him to pick up illegals near Tucson, Arizona. Osorio said he would communicate with the smuggling coordinators through WhatsApp on his cellphone. Osorio admitted that during today's smuggling event, he noticed a law enforcement vehicle get behind him. Osorio said he pulled over to let the people he had pick up out and began to drive off before the last person was completely out. Osorio admits he saw that person fall out of the vehicle. Osorio said he fled the scene without looking in his rear-view mirror. Osorio said he arrived at the checkpoint and fled again before eventually pulling over.
